Criteria:

- take a scene or chapter from POPPY and create it in graphic novel format
- the graphic novel templates are available in the library
- do not leave any blank spaces of white on your graphic template
- you must have the title of the book and your name clearly visible on your work
- the length of the project is up to you, a single page or a whole booklet
- you can work individually or with a partner

One School One Book project: relief map of the Dimwood Region

Due date: January 31st (or any day earlier)

Criteria:

- use the map at the beginning of POPPY, and create a relief map of the Dimwood Region
- you will probably need to research different ways of building a relief map (Pinterest has tons!)
- you can use lego, playdoh/modelling clay, paper, plaster of paris, materials from nature, or.....?
- the materials for this project will not be provided at school. You will need a large, strong base
- label the different parts of Dimwood region on your relief map
- you can work individually or with a partner
- have fun, be creative, show us what Dimwood looks like in 3-D

One School One Book project: dance presentation

Due date: January 31st (or any day earlier)

Criteria:

- you must be a dancer in order to choose this project
- create a dance that you would be willing to present at our assembly
- the dance is your interpretation of what you envision Poppy's dancing would look like or another dance theme from the book
- of course, it must be choreographed and set to music
- you may perform individually or with a partner

One School One Book project: iMovie book trailer

Due date: January 31st (or any day earlier)
